CUSTER AT THE LITTLE BIGHORN

Come join us as National Park Service Chief Historian Emeritus Ed Bearss takes us back in time to July 25th, 1876 to an iconic battle and a battlefield that he knows well: the Battle of the Little Bighorn.

During the Civil War, George Armstrong Custer's courage and audacity won him many plaudits and promotions. Ever a risk taker, he led his men from the front at Gettysburg, Yellow Tavern, Third Winchester and Cedar Creek, and it was Custer's cavalry division that cut off Lee's last avenue of escape at Appomattox. Always in the thick of things, Custer emerged from one engagement after another unscathed leading others to characterize his good fortune as "Custer's luck."

Following the war, the bold and ostentatious Custer remained in the army. Commissioned lieutenant colonel in the 7th Cavalry and posted in the west, he participated in several campaigns against the Sioux and Cheyenne prior to the starcrossed Centennial Campaign of 1876. It was during this campaign at the Battle of the Little Bighorn that Custer's audacity at long last failed him and his luck, and that of 266 officers and men in his command, finally ran out.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Thank you to everyone who attended the October meeting. There were 64 diners, five who were nonmembers. Also attending were an additional 28 members and eight non-member to hear the lecture. Total attendance to hear the lecture was 92. Thank you once again for your outstanding support and interest in the Round Table.

Remember to make your dinner reservation by 11 a.m. November 14th to hear Ed Bearss speak on "Custer at the Little Bighorn."

Fort Dickerson Living History Weekend

These are my brief comments about the Ft. Dickerson weekend. It was a fascinating and enriching experience for those that attended the events and for those that participated as volunteers, exhibitors, and reenactors.

I would like to thank those who made this a successful three days. If I have left anyone from the list please accept my apology and my thanks for your contribution.

Perry Hill and Tom Wright for leading and organizing the event.

Eric Wayland – coordinated and controlled parking at the event

Gerald Augustus – ordinance

Sandra Augustus – women's fashions

Ed Archer – medical display and presentations

Bill Walker – medical presentation and amputation

Tom and Sue Wright – President and Mrs. Lincoln

Conny Ottway – 24 piece band/ orchestra

Jim Young – General Lee

Dewey Beard – bugler

George Lane – cooked rice and red beans with corn bread

Steve Lundberg – Union Commander

Gary Holt – Confederate Commander

All the Union and Confederate reenactors

City Park and Recreation Department for portable bathrooms and transportation

The volunteers from the KCWRT that helped over the three days.

The displays, reenactments and presentations were done with quality and excellence that left the more than 800 that attended the events with a special and memorable experience. I had many visitors express their appreciation to the Round Table for hosting the three day Living History of Fort Dickerson. If you were unable to attend this year, mark your calendar for next year's event. Enjoy the pictures provided by Jerry Patterson.
